Contenu

This course analyzes the impact of globalization on marketing practices. Building on the basics you have already covered (segmentation, targeting, positioning, the 4Ps, marketing research, consumer behavior, integrated marketing communications), we study and analyze how a company must understand, anticipate and react to the challenges of globalization.

Forme de l'évaluation

All the material covered in class (e.g., slides, additional readings, case studies, exercises, projects, presentations) and all the material on Moodle are an integral part of the material for the exam.

The exam, which takes place during the exam session, is worth 50% of the final grade.
The course activities (presentations, projects) are worth 50%.

Retake (written 2h) will be done during the exam retake session. In the case of a first attempt (i.e., justified absence from the exam at the first session), the course activities will be counted in the calculation of the final grade. In case of a second attempt, the grade will be 100% on the written retake exam.

The exam will be a closed-book exam. Neither documents nor connected devices are permitted during the exams. In case of violation of these rules, the exam will be deemed as failed.

Documentation

Suggested Textbook:

Keegan, & Green (2020). Global Marketing. 10th edition. Pearson.

Additional readings will be given in class.

Pré-requis

The course builds on the knowledge already acquired by students. It is assumed that students have a basic knowledge of the different functions of an organization, and that they know the basics of marketing and marketing analysis.
