Contenu

The course focuses on trade in goods and dispute settlement in the WTO. We start with the economic history of the WTO, and then move to review sequentially first trade in goods (customs duties, quotas, environmental-, public health policies, safeguards, etc.), then trade in services, and finally the organization of dispute settlement in the WTO.

Forme de l'évaluation

The mode of examination is described in detail in the relevant Law Faculty statutes. Students are required to take two multiple-choice exams, one in the mid semester, and one at the end of the semester. Students who have not taken the mid-term exam (which takes place in April, 2022), will not be allowed to take the final exam (May 2022). Class participation will be taken into account when grading students.

Documentation

Petros C. Mavroidis 2016. The Regulation of International Trade, vols. 1&2, MIT Press: Cambridge, Massachusetts.

Copies of the book will be kept on reserve at the Library of the Law Faculty. Additional handouts will be used for topics not covered by the book. Students are welcome to use any other book they deem useful. In this respect, several sources will be proposed in the first class.

Objectifs d'apprentissage

Au terme de la formation l'étudiant-e doit être capable de :

- Provide a comprehensive introduction into WTO Law (trade in goods, services, intellectual property, and dispute settlement)
